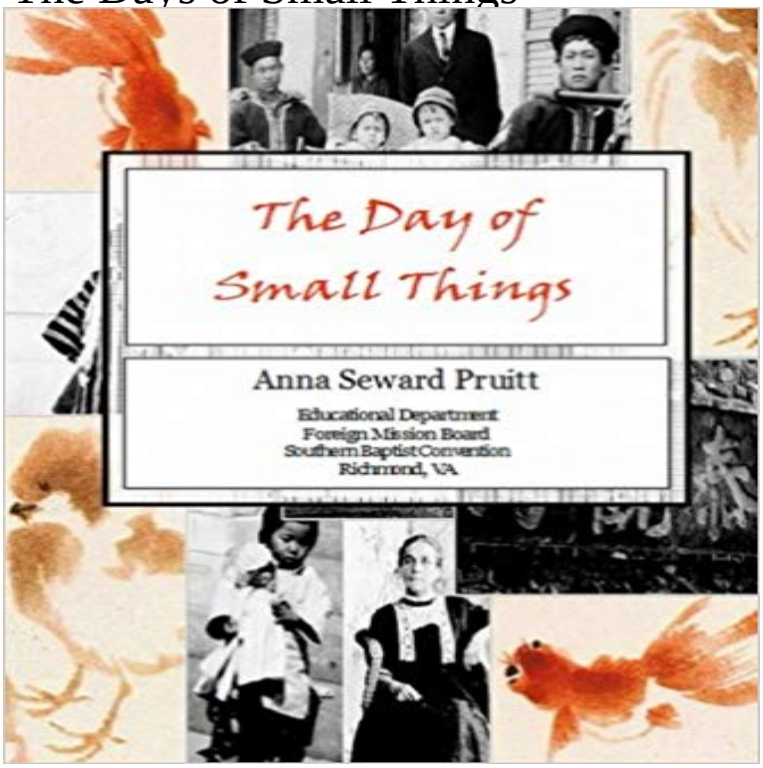
The Days of Small Things



Anna Seward Pruitt published this book in1929 after spending a long missionary career in China with her husband C.W. Pruitt.This is the story of her first years in China as only the second woman Southern Baptist Missionary to China, the first being Lottie Moon, who is mentioned about a dozen times mostly in first person accounts, in the text. Her daughter Ida Pruitt went on with Rewi Alley to become one of the few Westerners acknowledged as a friend of early Communist China.

New International Version Who dares despise the day of small things, since the seven eyes of the LORD that range throughout the earth will rejoice when theyFor who hath despised the day of small things? For they shall rejoice and shall see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel with those seven.
