

For Liberty: A Red Hot and BOOM! Story (A Fourth of July Contemporary Romance Holiday Novella)

While deployed overseas, his mission classified, the heartfelt letters Maximus writes are the only bits of communication Liberty receives during the year he is away.

Her memories of him, along with a box full of letters, become her most prized possession that and the life growing inside her. It's not until communication stops, and the scheduled return of her Army hero comes and goes, that Libby begins to freak out. Her worry for his welfare, along with concern over her current situation, wreaks havoc on her once-solid nerves. While she's waiting for his return with bated breath, she clings to hope and remembers the words he once wrote: A soldier doesn't fight because he hates what is in front of him. A soldier fights because he loves what he left behind. The infamous quote is a constant reminder of why he chooses to fight: For Liberty. Break out the fireworks and get ready to kick off your summer with this HOT new collection of stories. For Liberty is part of the Red Hot and BOOM! multi-author series (stands alone for reading enjoyment).
