

Land and Society in Britain, 1700-1914: Essays in Honour of F.M.L. Thompson

This tribute to F.M.L. Thompson's life and work brings together an international group of contributors. Each chapter deals with a different aspect of land and society in the period between 1700 and 1914, and includes topics such as Edwardian politics, golf and Harcourt's budget.

Land and Society in Britain, 1700-1914: Essays in Honour of F. M. L. Thompson. Edited by Negley Harte and Roland Quinault. Manchester: Manchester University Press, 1996. Pp. xvi + 255. ISBN-10: 0 521 43154 1. ISBN-13: 978 0 521 43154 1. This tribute to F.M.L. Thompson's life and work brings together an international group of contributors. Each chapter deals with a different aspect of land and society in the period between 1700 and 1914, and includes topics such as Edwardian politics, golf and Harcourt's budget.

Land and Society in Britain, 1700-1914: Essays in Honour of F.M.L. Thompson / edited by Negley Harte and Roland Quinault. Format: Book Language: English Land and Society in Britain, 1700-1914: Essays in Honour of F. M. L. Thompson. Edited by Negley Harte and Roland Quinault. Manchester: Sanderson, M., Education, Economic Change and Society in England, 1780-1870 Nicholas, T., Businessmen and land ownership in the late nineteenth Land and Society in Britain, 1700-1914: Essays in Honour of F. M. L. Thompson Land and Society in Britain, 1700-1914: Essays in Honour of F.M.L. Thompson: 9780719034138: Books - . This tribute to F.M.L. Thompson's life and work brings together an international group of contributors. Each chapter deals with a different aspect of land and Imperialism, Information, and the Colonial Society of 1868 Edward Beasley debated by F.M.L. Thompson, who believes that many businessmen did buy land, Land and Society in Britain, 1700-1914: Essays in Honour of F.M.L. Thompson Land and Society in Britain, 1700-1914: Essays in Honour of F. M. L. Thompson, edited by Negley Harte and Roland Quinault pp. xvi + 255. Manchester and 668 Land and Society in Britain, 1700-1914: Essays in Honour of F. M. L. Thompson, edited by Negley Harte and Roland Quinault pp. xvi + 255. Manchester This tribute to F.M.L. Thompson's life and work brings together an international group of contributors. Each chapter deals with a different aspect of land and Land and Society in Britain, 1700-1914: Essays in Honour of F. M. L. Thompson. Edited by Negley Harte and Roland Quinault. Manchester: Land and Society in Britain, 1700-1914: Essays in Honour of F.M.L. Thompson: F. M. L. Thompson, N. B. Harte, Roland E. Quinault: Libros. Type: Book Author(s): F. M. L. Thompson, N. B. Harte, Roland E. Quinault Date: 1996 Publisher: Manchester University Press Pub place: Manchester ISBN-10: Cambridge Social History of Britain, 1750-1950, ed. F. M. L. Thompson (3 vols., Cambridge, 1990) Land and Society in Britain, 1700-1914: Essays in Honour The lowest Price of Land and society in Britain, 1700-1914: essays in honour of F. M. L. Thompson in India updated on 7th June 2018. Land and Society in Britain, 1700-1914. Essays in Honour of F. M. L. Thompson, ed. Negley Harte and Roland Quinault (Manchester: U.P., 1996 pp. xvi + 255. Contents. F. M. L. Thompson: an appreciation As friend and colleague / Penelope J. Corfield As a historian of landed society / Roland Quinault 1. The rivals: