

Heaven, Iron and I - The Ron Martinelli Story

Heaven, Iron and I - The Ron Martinelli Story is a message of hope, perseverance and faith. This amazing story chronicles Rons time in U.S. Military service as he joined the U.S. Army, Navy and Marines (yes, three branches of service!) as well as his career in professional wrestling and beyond. Ron wrestled professionally under the name Ron Martinelli in the 1970s and 1980s in the dynamic world of professional wrestling worldwide. At the height of his career he suffered a near fatal, career ending injury when a vehicle ran directly into him, pinning him and crushing his legs and lower torso, sending him to the hospital ICU and putting him in a wheelchair for what should have been the rest of his life. Doctors said hed never walk again - only for Ron to prove them wrong! He not only walked again, but went back to his professional wrestling career winning the world title! Born and raised in Detroit, Michigan Ron is the 5th of 6 children born to Italia and Enrico Zuccaro, Italian immigrants who became United States citizens. Ron attended Denby High School in Detroit, Michigan where he played both football and baseball. He joined the Marines at the age of 17 and went on to serve in the U.S. Army. Ron left the U.S. Army briefly and then joined the Army Reserve. He was accepted to Officer Candidate School and turned it down volunteer to go to Vietnam. Three days later he was on the U.S.N.S. General Pope headed to the Central Highlands. Rons family has served in the U.S. Armed Forces for over 70 years. Ron has 3 sons, Ron, Tom and Joey; five grandsons, Richie, Tom Tom, Ronnie, Michael and Anthony; and two great grandsons Tom Tom Tom and Angelo all of whom he loves dearly. You will find Ron spending his days at his sons barbershop (Joeys Barbershop located in New Haven, MI) where he chats with the customers, especially the Vets! Who says you cant do it?Who says you cant achieve your dreams?Who says youll always be a loser and a quitter?God is telling you, YOU CAN!You can win over troubles.You can fulfill your dreams.You can achieve your goals.You can be a WINNER!Heaven, Iron and I is a magical journey that will leave you wanting for more!
